

BOCODOL CEO gets Presidential Award

Dr. Tau receiving his award from H.E Ian Khama Seretse Khama

The Board of Governors and staff at BOCODOL congratulate the Executive Director Dr. Daniel Rakgomo Tau for his Presidential Award, the Presidential Order of Meritorious Service.

Dr Daniel Tau was awarded the Presidential Order of Meritorious Service at the 2011 Botswana Honors and Awards Ceremony held on the 27th September, 2011. This is in recognition of his contribution towards the growth of the Education sector in the country, especially open and distance learning (ODL). The award also recognises his contribution as Chairman of the Vision 2016 Council and the Botswana National Sports Council.

Dr. Tau is the founding Chief Executive Officer of the Botswana College of Distance and Open Learning (BOCODOL). Among his many achievements, Dr. Tau has successfully transformed BOCODOL into a reputable Open School. Under his stewardship, BOCODOL continues to grow and has won many accolades, among them the Commonwealth of Learning Excellence Award in 2007. He is currently steering the transformation of BOCODOL into an Open University.

The Order of Meritorious Service is awarded to any person for actions or services befitting Botswana or any Community/Organisation in any particular field or sphere and for acts of courage or devotion to duty.

Congratulations from all at BOCODOL!
